Further growth at TBI Communications

14th June 2016

For immediate release

TBI Communications, a leading publishing consultancy and marketing services agency, is delighted to welcome Laura Brant to their growing team.

Laura joins TBI as Senior Marketing and Communications Manager in their UK office. She brings a range of valuable experience from past roles at Taylor & Francis and Sparsholt College.

TBI is one of the most highly regarded marketing service providers in the industry, with staff based in the UK, USA, and Europe, and a fast expanding client base. TBI help their clients launch new products and services, reach new markets, evolve brands and business strategies, and develop integrated marketing programs and campaigns to communicate with customers, authors, and readers.

"Laura will be a great asset in providing branding, communications, and online marketing advice for our clients", commented Lynne Miller, Managing Director at TBI. "Brand development and strategy is a strong focus for the clients we are working with, and we're excited to add her skills and experience to our team".
